Flooring decors from Egger

The ideal partners for modern colour trends

It's all about BLACK – The new black as an accent.

The new black has acquired a natural attitude: It comes to us with wood textures or matt as an accent. Black details combine with authentic wood to create a modern interior style.

A natural flooring brings lightness into the room and underlines the effect of the black elements. With dark accents such as cracks or knots, it combines very well with black.

Soft Green – Matt green tones from nature.

Reed, eucalyptus or fir have been the inspiration for this colour trend with matt green tones from nature.

In the building industry and architecture, the concept of linking interior design and nature is known as biophilic design: Light-flooded rooms with water elements and plants create an atmosphere all of their own. Modern technology and natural materials successfully make common cause.

Combine floors in a light, natural wood look for this trend.

Muted Earth Tones – Warm earth tones create a feel-good atmosphere.

Muted earth tones accompany us in various shapes and textures: They not only form a direction of the current uni colours, but we also encounter them in warm wood tones and natural materials such as leather as well as textiles made of hemp and linen.

The focus here is not on contrasts, but on the combination of muted earth and natural tones. It is not individual pieces of furniture or home accessories that dominate the room; rather, the effect is created by the colour harmony of the furnishings. Everything blends into a harmonious whole.

Shaded Blue – Muted blue tones for soothing clarity.

Blue tones captivate with their soothing clarity. They bring space into our homes by reminding us of the sky and the sea. As subtle multi-talents, they lend lightness and calm to an elegant ambience without distracting.

Muted blue tones look particularly beautiful with natural oak woods, light flooring boards or grey tones. Dark accents set individual points of contrast.
